

Join the premier organization for Pennsylvania's newspaper editors

The Pennsylvania Society of Newspaper Editors offers you the opportunity to network with editors statewide and find real solutions to the challenges you face.

In your role as an editor, you are under constant demands of fast-paced deadlines, newsroom management issues and ever-changing industry developments.

PSNE offers editors the tools they need to meet these challenges with industry publications, conferences, legislative and legal assistance, seminars, workshops, contests and more.

Look what PSNE has to offer:

LEGAL AND LEGISLATIVE ASSISTANCE

- The Legal Hotline provides answers to your questions on open records, libel and open meetings on deadline from the PNA's media law counsel.
- Regular updates on current legislative activity and PNA's lobbying efforts affecting the newspaper industry.

KEYSTONE PRESS AWARDS CONTEST

- The state's leading competition for newsroom personnel annually attracts more than 4,000 entries in eight circulation divisions with 24 categories.
- Winners are recognized at the annual awards banquet.

J-SCHOOL

- PSNE offers a link to journalism programs at many of Pennsylvania's universities.
- Programs such as Journalist in Residence and Editors' Day enable editors to meet and recruit talented journalism students.

SPECIAL SEMINARS/WORKSHOPS

- One-day seminars presented in newsrooms across the state and at the Pennsylvania Newspaper Association are targeted to reporters and editors.
- Topics include journalism law, reporting techniques, writing and editing enrichment.

DIVERSITY IN STAFFING

- A resume bank maintained by the Pennsylvania Newspaper Association.

PENNSYLVANIA PRESS CONFERENCE

- The largest gathering of newspaper editorial personnel in the state.
- Features sessions on timely topics and networking opportunities.

PUBLICATIONS

- PSNE members receive subscriptions to PRESS, HEADLINES & DEADLINES and PSNE EXCHANGE, the state's leading newspaper industry publications.
- PRESS is a tabloid-sized journal that is published quarterly and contains features, expert advice and updates on Pennsylvania's newspaper industry.
- HEADLINES & DEADLINES is a weekly electronic newsletter reporting on issues in the newspaper industry.
- PSNE EXCHANGE is a monthly electronic newsletter provided to PSNE members only.
